

HI -

SO.... Here we are touring away again, the blood, the sweat, the blood, the sweat, sprawled out all open and vulnerable, pushing, pushing - it's like having a fucking baby. The past year we've been touring our Californication c.d. all around the globe Europe, South America, Japan, Uranus and now we go here, the land that birthed us, and even an unpatriotic muthaFucker like me feels a sense of comfort like a baby suckling up to some big warm milkys or an old grizzly hermit nestled in some majestic mountains somewhere, drinking goats milk..... The aspirations I had when I became romantically involved with rock music - to be as cool as Pete Townsend - to be a one of a kind musician - to be like a dog, true and loyal to what I love and at ease with who I am that is this infinite journey (the dog part, not really the Pete Townsend part), That's what this tour, this show, this town is to me, another chance to be a dog. When I want to CRACK open because the pain gets too much and I feel like I can't handle it. I know that's the healer inside of me bringing me to the best possible place I could be and I (we) am (are) so grateful to get to play for all of you and have a chance to strike a flutious groove that connects us to something unimaginably bigger than any tangible thing. Give everything, expect nothing, love is everything. Thank you for coming to see us play.
